

2003 World Cruise

CRYSTAL SYMPHONY
WONDERS OF THE SOUTHERN SEAS

Saturday, January 25, 2003

Greetings Antarctica and Australia Adventurers,

Captain Edvardsen and his Norwegian Officers are owed big thanks for the enjoyable Waffle Feast they presented this morning. The Captain is a terrific chef, isn't he?.....and doesn't he look good in an apron? We hope you enjoyed the Waffle Feast – calories and all – plus the gathering with other World Cruise club members.

All guests who complete a Crystal World Cruise become members in the Crystal World Cruise Club. We have "Four A's" sailing now who have taken every Crystal Symphony World Cruise. Since 1996 many others have taken Symphony World Cruises, but now opt for doing only segments of the World Cruises. On this particular segment, we have 22 Guests who have taken a prior World Cruise. These Crystal World Cruise Club members were invited to the Waffle Feast this morning.

All of you I saw tonight looked most fashionable and lovely in your formal attire. Thanks to those of you whose photos needed taken for the World Cruise Photo Album for meeting at the Photo Shop. When the photos were originally taken, some of you were either already on the ship or missed the photographer at the Miami Gala Dinner. With the photos being taken digitally, the albums are being produced shoreside and should be delivered back to the ship in a timely manner.

Some of you, I hear, are not all unpacked yet....and others are finding that even on a sea day there is too much to do! But what a "wonderful life"....with tomorrow another of those days! Come visit with me from 10:30am to 11:30am in the Palm Court if you find nothing else to do!

Before signing off.....

- a) From 19th Century English sailors who – rather than setting sail for poor wages – would "strike" the sails and not leave port.
- b) The King of Siam would present his enemies or rivals with the gift of a white elephant because he knew what a huge problem its upkeep and maintenance would cause.
