

2003 World Cruise

CRYSTAL SYMPHONY
WONDERS OF THE SOUTHERN SEAS

Thursday, January 30, 2003

Greetings Antarctica and Australia Adventurers,

All of you must have a direct connection to the "sun god" providing all these beautiful days at sea. The lovely weather just adds another choice to those we make each day as we plan our activities – and aren't there enough already!!!!

Have you tuned in to see the Five O'clock Funnies with Cruise Director Paul on Channel 27? At 5:00pm each sea day, Paul offers some banter at the top of the show, followed by hilarious TV funnies from yesteryear to present day. The time is such that you may be in your stateroom preparing for the evening's activities – so give it a look.

I hope you got to know some of your fellow World Cruisers a little better at this evening's World Cruise gathering. Get-togethers such as this afford the opportunity to meet others who enjoy long voyages and who share common interests. Additionally, our Symphony officers and staff members enjoy meeting you too in more enjoyable settings than from behind their desks!

You'll hear from me next the evening of February 3, the evening we sail from Porto Belo. Do enjoy your visit to these beautiful coastal cities of Brazil!

Before signing off.....

Identify the author of these familiar phrases:

- a) The pithy poet who claimed: "Candy is dandy but liquor is quicker."
- b) The advocate of equality who counseled that "Injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere."

Wishing you a restful and peaceful night,

Rosemary Barnhart
2003 World Cruise Hostess

Answers to the last newsletter, 29 Jan. 2003:

Define and locate more of the following famous lines:

- a) The Line of Demarcation: In 1493, Pope Alexander VI drew an imaginary line in the Atlantic to divide the New World between Portugal and Spain.
- b) The Short Line: Monopoly Board address; also the Camden to Atlantic City, N.J. railroad.
- c) The Morning Line: Newspapers or "The Racing Forum" -it's the racing odds.