

2003 World Cruise

CRYSTAL SYMPHONY
WONDERS OF THE SOUTHERN SEAS

Friday, February 07, 2003

Greetings Antarctica and Australia Adventurers,

While I usually write to you the evening before a sea day, I thought it best to do one before our shoreside outing tomorrow. As your invitation reads, you should be pierside by 9:00am. Crystal's Shore Excursion staff will be there to assist you to the motorcoaches for the ride to Estancia La Rábida. Each coach will have a bilingual guide who will highlight important sights for you along the way.

Upon arrival at the ranch, we want you to enjoy a day of exploration and pleasure that the owners of La Rábida have planned for you. Ship's Officers and staff will be meeting you there as well. The day should be an intimate experience of life here in Uruguay in a very informal atmosphere.

Dress casually and comfortably..... there will be no place cards for lunch or pairing off into groups.....the day is for you to enjoy and I am pleased to be sharing it with you!

Kim, our Photo Shop Manager, has asked that I mention the following. Although all the photos taken of you anytime during this 2003 World Cruise will be available, they will be on display only during the segment in which they were taken. Thus the photos that have been taken to date will still be available to you, but Kim will soon be removing them from the display cases. She asks that you make a note of the numbers and approximate date of the photo if you wish not to order them now, but closer to the end the cruise. The photos would be lovely reminders of this 2003 adventure and a way to use the cruise end extra shipboard credit.

Looking forward to seeing you tomorrow morning, pierside at 9:00am. As I will be with you all day tomorrow, I will not have the opportunity to write a letter February 8. But I'll have one for you the night of the 10th.

Before signing off.....
