George Sakellariou

Spanish Masterpieces to Japanese Folksong Sakura

PERSONALITY PROFILE

Classical Guitarist George Sakellariou

He began playing the guitar at an early age in Athens, Greece, and went on to receive formal training at the esteemed Conservatory of Music in Athens, where he graduated with honors, and ultimately studied with the great master Segovia. Upon completion of his studies at the age of twenty, George joined the faculty of the San Francisco Conservatory of Music where he became Chairman of the Guitar Department. There, he taught his style of playing with an emphasis on clear tone and smooth lyrical lines, combined with a precise sense of rhythm.

George has performed around the world in concert halls like the Kennedy Center, at a private performance for Steve Jobs of Apple, and numerous other places: Singapore, Hong, Kong, Turkey, Heidelberg, Rio de Janeiro, Bogota, Montevideo, Toronto, Calgary, Taipei, Osaka; and made many radio and television appearances including BBC, PBS, and Radio France. At the Toronto festival, George performed the Leo Brouwer Guitar Concerto for guitar and orchestra, Leo Brouwer conducting. Several articles have been published in Guitar Player magazine and one quote states:

George currently lives in San Rafael, California.
