

The Irish Embassy Pub officially opened to a packed house July 17, 2008. The pub arose out of an unlikely partnership between a local Durangoan, Mick Ward, and an Irishman, Jim Shannon. The two met while Mick was traveling Europe in the late 70s. They became great friends and spent many years visiting and traveling. When the present building became vacant, Mick contacted Jim about transforming it into an Irish pub. Jim loved the idea, and along with Jerry Hembury and Michael Graham, they transformed the space into the authentic Irish pub you see today. The furniture, pictures on the wall, wood trim, dishes, silverware, glasses, and even some of the staff were shipped in from Ireland to complete the transformation. Have a walk around and discover our three full bars, including the Ambassador's Lounge (available to rent for functions and events) and our nightclub, the Underground.

The Irish Embassy Pub is a huge supporter of local events in Durango, and is very involved in the community. Join us Sunday afternoons for our Traditional Irish Jam, starting at 12:30 pm. As they say in Ireland, "Cead Milé Failte!" One Hundred Thousand Welcomes!
